BLACK HOLE

Round Hole Series

Product Description

Black Hole is a laminated textile glass developed from a densely woven black cotton fabric that is chemically perforated with five-millimeter circular openings before lamination. The dark textile absorbs much of the surrounding light while the perforations allow controlled points of transmission through the surface. From a distance, the glass reads as deep and monolithic, forming a calm architectural plane. As the viewer approaches, the perforations become visible and reveal the textile structure preserved within the glass. Light passing through the openings introduces subtle depth, silhouettes, and spatial layering.

Black Hole creates a restrained yet atmospheric surface that balances privacy with controlled light transmission. The combination of dark textile and precise perforation results in a material that feels both architectural and tactile, suitable for interiors where visual calm and enclosure are required.
